

HOT THREE CORNERED HOUSE TARIFF DEBATE

All Parties are Criticised and Ridiculed By Their Antagonistic Opponents

PRESIDENT IS CRITICISED

President Is Declared to Have Undertaken to Settle Problems More Than Hundred Years Old

REPUBLICANS HOLD CAUCUS

WASHINGTON, APRIL 24.—Republicanism was described as "dead, damned and lost forever," Democracy was accused of rushing to "clean its feet on the Progressive party doormat" and the Progressive party was characterized as a branch shot from "the dead Republican trunk" in the three cornered tariff debate in the house today.
Representatives Hamilton and Fordney of Michigan "took up the cudgels for the Republican minority the latter bitterly assailing the sugar schedule and the free listing of lumber and wool as ruinous on American industry. Representative Hamilton ridiculed the Democrats and criticised the president. With the coarseness of a man accustomed to instruct the immature mind of youth, he said, "the president in his address to congress, undertook to settle eight problems that have vexed the minds of statesmen for more than a hundred years."

Representative Hinebaugh of Illinois and Hulings of Pennsylvania attacked the Underwood bill on behalf of the Progressive party. Representative Hulings declared the bill would not curb monopoly nor reduce the cost of living, though he hoped it would.

He predicted that if President Wilson could convince the people that the tariff ideas were right "the Democratic party will remain in power for the next twenty years."

Mr. Hinebaugh charged that the pending bill was a compromise between the "power of special privilege and the power of political patronage," and he accused the Democrats and Republicans of failing over themselves in an attempt to clean "their feet on the Progressive party doormat."

Representative Hammond of Minnesota and Representative Peters of Massachusetts defended the bill on behalf of the Democratic ways and means committee, asserting that it was an honest effort to lighten the burdens of the people and that it stripped the tariff of its discriminations and privileges to the favored few.

New Democrats among them Representative Aswell of Louisiana, Quinn of Mississippi and Barkley of Kentucky expressed loyalty to their party and the bill and defied the Progressives to create discord in the Democratic ranks.

Mr. Barkley reminding the Republicans that it was too late for them now to mourn, declared that their party had been "damned and lost forever."

The debate was kept up until late in the evening when the house adjourned for the Republicans to hold a scheduled caucus.

Discuss Cotton Schedule.
The cotton schedule of the tariff bill was the subject of a long and heated debate in a caucus of Republican members of the house tonight. Representatives Gardner of Massachusetts and Greene of Iowa presented a report as a sub-committee of the ways and means committee (Republican) setting forth that they had been unable to frame a complete substitute for the cotton schedule of the Underwood bill.

They said they had not been given sufficient time nor the information upon which to draft a cotton schedule.

The caucus last week instructed the ways and means minority committee to report a bill in accord with the report of the late tariff board on cotton and cotton goods. In the last congress former Representative Hill of Connecticut offered a substitute for the Underwood cotton schedule which was supported by the Republicans in the house. Representatives Gardner and Greene tonight told the caucus that the Hill bill was founded on a broad basis and that many of the rates were erroneous.

Representatives Green of Massachusetts presented a report of the executive committee of the Fall River Cotton Manufacturers' association which he said represented 40,000 operatives and $60,000,000 capital against the Underwood bill.
 Republican senators in executive session tonight decided to hold up the nominations of a dozen postmasters until an investigation could be made as to the reason for vacancies in the respective cities.
 Postmasters from the home towns of senators were approved without opposition. There was considerable debate over the appointment of William H. Osborne of North Carolina as commissioner of internal revenue, but finally it was confirmed and several minor appointments from the department of justice also were approved.

SECRETARY OF STATE EXPLAINS BANQUET

DECLARES "TEETOTALER" CUSTOM OF HIS HOME WILL BE USED OFFICIALLY

Secretary Bryan Says he Did Not Intend to Magnify the Incident by Mentioning the Non-use of Wines at the Bryce Banquet But is Forced to by Newspaper Reports.

WASHINGTON, APRIL 24.—Comment upon the substitution of unfermented grape juice for the wine usually served on such occasions at the dinner given by Secretary and Mrs. Bryan on Monday evening in honor of Ambassador Bryce, caused the secretary to issue a statement today in which Mr. Bryan made public that the question of how the "teetotaler" custom of his home would be received in official society was discussed by President Wilson before accepting the portfolio of state. The statement follows:

"We did not intend to magnify it by mentioning it, the importance of the non-use of wine at the dinner given to Ambassador Bryce, on Monday night, but as the papers have made some inaccurate references to the matter the facts might as well be known.

"This was the first dinner we have given to the members of the diplomatic corps and therefore the first time when we came into conflict with the social custom of serving wine at dinner. The seven other ambassadors then in the city and their ladies were invited to meet Ambassador and Mrs. Bryce, and as all the gentlemen guests were from foreign countries I thought it proper to explain to them the reason for our failure to conform to what seems to have been customary in this matter.
Believing that the issue should be met frankly in the beginning, I told them when we sat down to the table that Mrs. Bryan and I had been teetotalers from our youth as were our parents before us, and had never served liquor at our table; that when the president was kind enough to tender me the portfolio of state I asked him whether our failure to serve wine would be any embarrassment to the administration and that he generously left the matter to our discretion. I suggested that I thought it unfair to assume that those coming to us from abroad would judge us harshly or be unwilling to tolerate the maintenance of a traditional custom and expressed the hope that our friendship would be made so apparent to them and our hospitality so cordial that they would overlook this weakness in us, if they regarded it as a weakness. My remarks were applauded by the company and we never spent a more enjoyable evening.

"That is all there is to the matter and we can consider the incident closed and the custom established so far as we are concerned."

THIRTY FIVE BODIES ARE TAKEN OUT OF MINE WRECKAGE

Many Others Have Been Located But Have Not Been Brought Through Wreckage to Surface.

BULLETIN.
Pittsburgh, Pa., April 25.—It is reported this morning that a fire has broken out again in the Cincinnati mine. The report is denied by the mine. The officials but rescue work has been halted on account of smoke in the mine entries. But 45 bodies of miners out of 115 have been recovered.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 24.—Up to darkness tonight 35 bodies of miners had been taken from the Cincinnati mines of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke company, at Finleyville, the scene yesterday of a disastrous explosion.
Many other bodies, it is said have been located but the greatest difficulty is being experienced in finding ways to convey the surface.

Tonight 80 miners are unaccounted for. These with the 35 dead taken from the mine bring the probable list of fatalities to 115.

Hopes of relatives and friends of the missing men that their loved ones are living are being dissipated slowly. Rescuers are unable to reach the inner workings of the mine on account of gas fumes, water and debris. It was announced by officials of the Pittsburgh Coal company tonight that 190 men entered the mine yesterday morning.
The officials stated that 75 men are known to have made their escape after the explosion.

Of the 35 dead taken from the mine, 19 of them have been identified in the morgue in Monongahela City, four miles away, where all the victims are being sent to be prepared for burial.

ASSESSED HEAVY FINE.

Large Quantity of Rotting Eggs in Liquid Found in New York Factory Costs Manager $500.

New York, April 24.—One hundred and twenty pounds of rotting eggs in liquid form found in the factory of the Steel-Drake company cost Louis Kniert, the company's manager, today a fine of $500. The Steel-Drake concern is one of the largest cake makers in the city using a ton of eggs a day.
The manager insisted that there was little chance that the bad eggs would have gone into cakes, but he admitted the company used in its cake flavor which could cover up the flavor of bad eggs that might accidentally have slipped in.

PUBLISHERS GATHER AT NEW YORK BANQUET

SECRETARY DANIELS MAKES THE PRINCIPAL ADDRESS

Speaking in Humorous Vein he Classifies Editors and Owners in Nautical Terms—Receives News of Burning of His Own Plant.

NEW YORK, APRIL 24.—Fellows of the newspaper craft, publishers and editors from all sections of the country gathered tonight at the annual joint banquet of the Associated Press and The American Newspaper Publishers' association, held in the Waldorf-Astoria, with the secretary of the navy, Josephus Daniels, owner of the Raleigh (N. C.) News and Observer, as the principal speaker.

Just before the dinner began Secretary Daniels received the unwell-come news from Raleigh that his newspaper plant had been destroyed by fire. The secretary said that as soon as the banquet was over he would return to Raleigh, although he had intended to remain in this city another night to attend the dinner to James Bryce, the British ambassador. More than 700 exponents of the American Fourth Estate attended the dinner, together with a number of invited guests not engaged in journalism. A vaudeville performance given by professional entertainers preceded the speech-making.

Speakers besides Secretary Daniels, included Charles R. Miller of the New York Times, toastmaster; President Charles A. Richmond of Union college, Charles H. Grassley of the Baltimore Sun, Norris G. Osborne of New Haven Journal and Courier, Bernard H. Ridder of the New York Staats-Zeitung, Congressman Frank L. Greene of the St. Albans (Vt.) Messenger and Dr.
George Alexander Chapman.

Secretary Daniels' speech alternated humor and serious. He said that among the presidents he singled out Lincoln and Wilson "for highest praise" because "each went outside of the field of politics to secure an editor for secretary of the navy and Lincoln's appointment of Gideon Wells, editor of the Hartford Times, to the navy port folio."

"The test of a secretary of the navy is whether he is a good managing editor," Mr. Daniels said. He reiterated a declaration of the new administration's policy welcoming publicity and inviting criticism under the press. Speaking in humorous vein, he classified newspaper editors and owners in nautical terms.
President Richmond said he had been told the annual dinner of newspapermen was the hardest in the country to address and by way of contrast he repeated a remark that President Wilson once said to him that "it is impossible to over-estimate the ignorance of the average audience."

"Neither college presidents nor newspapermen are as wise as they look," Dr. Richmond added. "Both have acquired the habit of saying many words, but in fact saying very little. If Benjamin Franklin should come in here tonight, and I know he would be a welcome guest, he would be greatly interested; but I fear that if he should read any of your productions he would say 'they have nothing on me there.'"

TRANSFER POSTAL SAVINGS SYSTEM.

Department is Now Under Third Assistant Postmaster General.

Washington, April 24.—An order transferring the postal savings system which since its creation has been a separate bureau under the direction of the postmaster general, to the bureau of the third assistant postmaster general, effective May 1, was issued by Postmaster Burleson tonight. In the future the system will be known as the division of postal savings.

"Under the new arrangements," Mr. Burleson said in a statement tonight, "the operation of the system in conjunction with the other financial divisions of the department will not only avoid the duplication of similar work and make possible substantial economies in administration, but will open the way for important improvements and extensions."

NEWSPAPER PLANT BURNED.

Raleigh, N. C., April 24.—Fire broke out in the basement of the News and Observer building this evening and in a short time the building was destroyed. The mailing files probably were the only thing saved.
The News and Observer is owned by Secretary Daniels of the navy department.

The loss is estimated at $75,000, with $40,000 insurance. Low water pressure handicapped the efforts of the firemen.

The News and Observer will be published temporarily from the plant of the Raleigh Times.

HYDRO-AEROPLANE ALTITUDE RECORD BROKEN.

Annapolis, Md., April 24.—The hydro-aeroplane altitude record was broken twice here today when Lieut.
L. P. Bellinger of the marine corps ascended 3,710 feet in a new machine. Later in the day Ensign Victor Herbst climbed to 4,450 feet in a similar machine. The former record was 3,500 feet made by Lieut.
John H. Towers of the navy.

WINS IN STRAIGHT FALLS.

St. Louis, April 24.—In a lightweight wrestling contest, Al Vaseen of St. Louis won over Max Luthberg, also of St. Louis, in straight falls here tonight. The first fall came in 31 minutes 25 seconds and the second in one minute and two seconds.

SECRETARY BRYAN LEAVES WASHINGTON

WILL CONFER WITH CALIFORNIA EX-ECUTIVE AND LEGISLATURE

Goes With No Specific Instructions But With the General Idea That Discrimination Aimed Directly at The Japanese Should if Possible Be Avoided.

WASHINGTON, APRIL 24.—William Jennings Bryan, secretary of state left here tonight for Sacramento, California, where on Monday he will begin consultations with Governor Johnson and members of the legislature in an effort to frame an anti-alien land law that will not be in conflict with treaty obligations of the United States with Japan.

"I go hopefully, yet with a realization of the responsibility involved," Secretary Bryan said as he left the white house after a final conference with President Wilson. The president had explained earlier in the day during his conference with the newspapermen that the purpose of Mr.
Bryan's visit was to take counsel with the California authorities as to the best way to avoid international difficulty. The president let it be known that he considered the attitude of the Japanese government in arguing its case proper and friendly, and that there had been no note of antagonism, despite reports to the contrary, the position of the Tokio government having been one of the respectful urgency that no discrimination be made against their people.

Inquiries as to just what Japan would consider a discrimination brought forth the intimation from the president that with the ineligibility of the Japanese ineligible to citizenship still a debatable question it would be difficult to define just what would be construed as a discrimination.

Mr. Bryan himself declared that he went with no specific instructions but simply with the general idea that discrimination aimed directly at the Japanese should if possible be avoided. The secretary will keep in touch with the president by telegraph and until his arrival in Sacramento, the administration is in hopes that no action will be taken in California.

APPEAL TO PEOPLE TO ASK REPEAL OF ORR INSURANCE LAW

St. Louis Insurance Agents Suggest Two Plans—Western Insurance Bureau Withdraws.

St. Louis, April 24.—The St.
Louis Insurance Agents' association today again appealed to the holders of fire insurance policies to take action to bring about the repeal of the Orr insurance law, because of which approximately sixty companies already have announced that they would cease writing business in Missouri after April 30th.

Two plans have been suggested by opponents of the law—its repeal at a special session of the legislature, or its suspension until it can be voted on at a referendum in November, 1914.

A meeting of members of various business and commercial organizations of St. Louis will be held tomorrow to discuss the insurance situation.

Insurance Bureau Withdraws.

Pittsburgh, April 24.—The Western insurance bureau holding an annual convention here today, decided to withdraw from the state of Missouri because of antagonistic legislation which they assert has been enacted and seriously interferes with their business. More than sixty-two companies were represented at the meeting.

REPORT CAUSES EXCITEMENT

New Orleans, April 24.—Considerable excitement was caused tonight by a report that the main line Mississippi river levee had broken at Lutcher, 40 miles above New Orleans on the city side of the river. A telephone message from Lutcher states that the break was in an old levee which was abandoned and the water broke through this and banked up against a new levee.

A thousand men were put to work tonight on the new levee opposite the break in the old embankment.

PLAN IS SUBMITTED TO DIPLOMATIC CORPS

DETAILS FOR PEACE AGREEMENT TO BE WORKED OUT BY NEGOTIATIONS

General Proposal is That Contracting Nations Should Never Go to War Over Any Dispute Before There Has Been An Investigation of the Facts Involved.

WASHINGTON, APRIL 24.—Secretary Bryan's plan for international peace agreements was submitted to the diplomatic corps today, with practically every ambassador and minister in Washington present.
The diplomats had assembled at the state department upon the secretary's invitation to hear the proposal explained. Later in the day President Wilson made known his views upon the plan at an informal conference with newspaper men at the white house. The president talked of the subject in a general way indicating that the details would be worked out by negotiation.
The general proposal he has in mind is that the contracting nations should never go to war over any dispute before there has been an investigation of the facts involved.
The plan would not be to obligate the nations to abide by the decision of the investigating committee, but merely to effect a suspension of judgment until impartial persons have looked into the circumstances at issue.

As originally submitted to the senate foreign relations committee the draft of the plan contained a sentence bearing upon the suspension of war like preparations during the period of investigation but this was stricken from the copy distributed formally to members of diplomatic corps today.

The president's explanation was that it was advisable to eliminate details at this time and leave such points to be determined by negotiation with each particular nation.

The president considers that the plan of limiting armaments is feasible only if every nation enters into a general arrangement. He recognizes that if two nations agree not to make preparations for war the third might take advantage of the lapse and encroach on either one of the inactive nations.

Johnson's Statement.

Sacramento, April 24.—A statement by Governor Johnson setting forth his views on the alien land controversy in the California legislature and the forth coming visit of Secretary of State Bryan was issued from the executive office this morning. Governor Johnson does not attempt to predict that any law will be enacted at this session barring Japanese or the subjects of any other nation, nor if so what kind of a law it will be, but merely asserts there is no cause to single out California as the object of such unprecedented action by the authorities at Washington.

Oppose Gov. Johnson.

San Francisco, April 24.—Resolutions committing the directors of the Panama-Pacific exposition to an attitude toward alien land legislation flatly opposed to that of Governor Johnson and the majority of the legislature were adopted today at a meeting of the board. The intent of the pending bills the resolutions declare, challenge the honor and good faith of California.

TO ASK FEDERAL QUIX.

Charges of Cruelty to Employees

Along Mississippi Levees Made.
Memphis, Tenn., April 24.—A result of charges concerning conditions in government levy camps along the river south of Memphis, J. P. Kranz, secretary of the associated charities declared today he would ask for a federal investigation of the river camps. The complaint came from a delegation who claimed the members were part of a gang of 100 "shipped out" of St.
Louis recently for work along the river. Cruelty to employees, lack of proper food and gross neglect of sanitary precautions were among the charges made.

SEARCH FOR GIRL FUGITIVE.

Chicago, April 24.—A search for Catherine Winters, 9 year old daughter of Dr. William A. Winters of New Castle, Ind., in a Gypsy camp at Sycamore, Ill., proved futile today. The girl who was reported to be the Winters child proved to be a Gypsy girl of light complexion.
The Winters girl has been missing since March 20th. Detectives have been detailed to search all lodging houses and hotels where a kidnapped child might be hidden.

VOTE FOR IMMEDIATE RESUMPTION OF WORK

STRIKERS VOTE IS FOUR TO ONE IN FAVOR OF PEACEFUL SETTLEMENT

Leaders of Belgian Strike Declare All Had Been Accomplished That Could Be Hoped For—Miners Oppose Settlement.

BRUSSELS, APRIL 24.—A plenary convention of the Social Labor party voted today for an immediate resumption of work by the strikers, the vote being four to one in favor of a peaceful settlement.

M. Vandervelde, the Socialist leader, in a long speech carefully explained the important advantage gained by the vote in the chamber of deputies which opened the way for the revision of the constitution desired by all workers.

Other leaders followed in the same vain urging peace and declaring that the strike had accomplished all that could be hoped for, and that confirmation of their wishes now was only a matter of time.

The commission which will be named to consider the reform of the electoral system, M. Destree said, "will be presided over by the spirit of constitutional revision."

Opposition to the settlement for the most part came from the delegates of the miners union in the Borinage and Center districts and the textile workers of Verviers who declared that their unions did not consider that enough had been gained. After adjournment the delegates notified their various districts of their decision. There were no demonstrations of any kind. The action of the congress seems to be generally accepted with favor. It is expected that the resumption will be general tomorrow.

The extra parliamentary commission on electoral reform it is announced will be "nominated next week. It will consist of twenty-one members drawn from political, university and sociological circles.

JUDGE MAHONEY DECLINES

MAYOR HARRISON'S OFFER

Chicago Executive Replies to Judge's Challenge and Will Make Investigation of West Side Conditions.

Chicago, April 24.—Mayor Harrison tonight took cognizance of charges made by Municipal Judge Mahoney that vice and crime flourish almost unchecked by the police in the Desplaines street police district on the west side where the court over which he presides is located.

The mayor ordered the civil service committee to begin a thorough investigation of the complaints of Judge Mahoney.

Charges that pickpockets, "Jack rollers" and crooks of all descriptions had operated almost unmolested had been answered by Mayor Harrison's offering to permit Judge Mahoney in reply to a challenge to do so to choose a commanding officer and twenty patrolmen to free the district from crime. Judge Mahoney at first accepted the offer but later decided it would be improper for him to direct the police action and thereafter sit in judgment of the persons they arrested.

"I am a judge, not a policeman," he said, "the police know the conditions as well as any one else. The streets are filled with drunken men.
An unseen hand continually is interfering in the interests of criminal and violators of the law. I haven't seen the hand—I have only seen the result of its work."

Police Accused by Crooks.

San Francisco, April 24.—Eight members of the San Francisco police department—four detectives and four patrolmen—who have been accused by members of an organized gang of bunco men with illegal shared in the profits of their illegal operations, were suspended by Chief of Police White today, pending an investigation of the conditions.

Wealthy Men White Slaves.

Los Angeles, April 24.—Wealthy men, not girls, are the white slaves in this city, victims of an organized band of designing young women, according to E. J. Fleming, a lawyer, who testified today before the grand jury probing accusations made by a number of girls that the Jonquil, a so-called lodging house conducted by Mrs. Josie Rosenberg, was in fact maintained by several "millionaire protectors," the proprietor acting as procureur for these men.

Fleming asserted that Mrs. Rosenberg, whose hearing on charges of pandering, was postponed to await the grand jury probe, to him appeared to be the head of a feminine Camden which drew its support from wealthy men who played "the good fellow" about the cafes of the city.
Tribute was immediately levied on such men, Fleming declared, by Mrs.
Rosenberg and her cohorts.

George H. Bixby, the Long Beach banker, summoned as witness in the Rosenberg case, and also wanted before the grand jury, still was missing today.

JACKSONVILLE ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS

Annual Banquet Held at State Street Church—Interesting Reports and Addresses Heard.

The annual meeting and banquet of the Jacksonville Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis was held at 6:30 Thursday evening at State Street church. Reports were heard from the president, Dr. T. O. Hardesty, the secretary, Dr. C. E. Cole and the treasurer, E. E. Crabtree. A report of the tuberculosis clinic was made by Miss Geneva Morrison. A new executive board and new officers were elected and a forecast of the work of the coming year was made by the incoming president, J. O. Vaught. Interesting accounts of the work in their home cities were made by Dr. Charles B. Johnson of Champaign and Mrs. George Palmer of Springfield. Profitable discussions by various members of the society followed these talks.

An Excellent Banquet.
Too much praise cannot be given the ladies of State Street church for their work in preparing one of the most delightful spreads that ever graced a festive board. The society thanks them also for the proceeds of the supper which they generously gave to the cause against tuberculosis after having done all work of preparation and furnishing the materials for the feast. Mrs. A. L. Adams was at the head of the committee which planned the meeting and Mrs. E. P. Cleary had charge of the supper arrangements.

The Business Session.
After the 165 members present had done full justice to the delicious menu, the society proceeded with the election of officers and reports of last years work. The officers elected for the ensuing year are: president, L. O. Vaught; 1st vice president, Dr. R. O. Post; 2nd vice president, Dr. H. C. Woltman; 3rd vice president, Dr. T. O. Hardesty; treasurer, Mrs. J. T. Sharpe; secretary, Miss Louise Capps and Medical director, Dr. C. E. Cole.

The new executive board consists of Dr. T. J. Pither, A. C. Metcalf, Mrs. C. E. Black, the Rev. H. D. French, Mrs. E. J. Heintz, Mrs. T. H. Buckthorpe, Mrs. A. L. Adams, Dr. F. A. Norris, Dr. W. B. Young, Dr. Grace Dewey, Miss Mary Price, Mrs. J. W. Hairgrove, Dr. George E. Stacy, Miss Annie Hinrichsen and Josephine Milligan.

The report of the treasurer, E. E. Crabtree showed receipts for the past year of $483.74 and disbursements of $495.85 leaving a balance in the treasury of $77.89. Proceedings of the executive committee meetings in the year of 1912-13 were reported by the secretary, Dr. C. E. Cole.

The report of Miss Morrison was comprehensive and painstakingly prepared. It showed the total number of patients attending the clinic the past year as 627 and the tuberculin treatments as 1479. The total number of cases reported for 1912 and 1913 is 137. The nurse has worked 300 days visited, 101 cases for purpose of investigation and made a total number of 1305 professional calls. $55.00 is reported as the average cost of maintaining the clinic per month. The president, Dr. T. O. Hardesty addressed the society at some length gives a brief history of the work against the white plague in this city as well as an account of the progress made the last year. His report is published in another column of this issue.

Work in Springfield and Champaign
Mrs. George Palmer of Springfield was called upon to explain the progress against tuberculosis in her city. Her talk contained much encouragement for the Jacksonville society, which is now most likely at a critical stage in its career, the time between the first outburst of enthusiasm and the later work that puts such a society on an absolutely solid foundation. Although very indifferent at first, the people of Springfield, Mrs. Palmer reports seem now more ready to work for the society for the prevention of tuberculosis than for any other charity. The burden of tuberculosis prevention does not rest upon doctors alone, it should not rest on philanthropists alone. It is a task requiring the co-operation of everyone. Substantial profits were made from the sale of red Cross seals. $400 was realized from this source in 1910 $1200 in 1911 and $1600 in 1912. Last year three Red Cross stamps were sold for every woman, man and child in Springfield. Another source of income among the club women for anti-tuberculosis work has been the presentation of plays by amateur talent, one play with which Mrs. Palmer was connected having netted $615. Agreements with insurance companies whereby the visiting nurse should do service for the company was an additional method of earning money suggested. Mrs. Palmer concluded by reminding those who might be discouraged that the darkest hour is before the dawn, that everyone must continually forge ahead and that success is sure to come in time.

Dr. Charles B. Johnson of Champaign emphasized the success of modern salesmanship methods in soliciting funds for anti-tuberculosis work. He has had much of the fund-raising to do himself and has learned to get contributions from all classes of men, receiving donations many times from sources entirely unexpected. He said he used to let rich men off with a dollar or two, but was now satisfied with nothing less than contributions more in keeping with the gifts means. Much of the success of the Champaign society has been due to the indefatigable labor of two medical graduates, Mrs. White and Mrs. Nichols who have held in succession the office of medical inspector A factor in stirring up interest in the fight against consumption has been a course of lectures by members of the American Medical association, one of whom Dr. W. O. McMichael, Dr. Johnson recommended for this city if the local society ever has a similar course of lectures.

Hopes for the Future.
L. O. Vaught, the new president said that he hoped to be able to give at the next annual meeting a report so bright that there would be no

ILLINOIS WINS FROM SHURTLEFF

ANNEXES INITIAL BASEBALL GAME 18 TO 13.

Contest Characterized by Hard Hitting, Poor Fielding and Inferior Pitching—Contest Long Drawn Out.

Illinois college opened the baseball season yesterday on Illinois field against the Shurtleff college team, and in a loosely played game took the visitors into camp by score of 18 to 13. The game was characterized by hard hitting, poor fielding and mediocre pitching. Poor pitching on the part of Illinois was due to the fact that Wheeler and Tandy are not yet in condition, both of them have had but one week's training. Wheeler started the game, but after eight runs had been scored in two innings he gave way to Tandy on account of a sore arm. The latter pitched winning ball except in the fourth inning, when the visitors scored four runs.
Snodgrass started the pitching stunt for Shurtleff and Illinois scored four runs in the first inning, before he caught his stride. After that he seemed to have the Illinois batters at his mercy, until the fifth inning when he blew up and allowed four runs followed by four more in the sixth, and two in the seventh. Kauffold finished the game and was touched up for three runs in the last inning.
The playing of the Illinois nine as a whole was about what could be expected from a team made up largely of green material. The game gave an opportunity to get a line on the ability of the various players. Several shifts will probably be made in the line-up as the result of the showing of the local men.
Kauffold lead the visiting team in batting, getting four hits out of five times up. After Tandy went on the mound Shurtleff had difficulty in securing hits when hits meant runs. On account of the large number of runs made by the two teams, the game was a long drawn out one, but was full of action from start to finish. The score:

DR. WHEELER MAKES STATEMENT.

Deposed Game Warden Says He Has No Fear of Investigation.

Subsequent to the announcement by Governor Dunne that he had requested the resignation of Dr. J. A. Wheeler, game warden, Dr. Wheeler issued the following statement:

"I have frequently stated since the present administration has been installed that I was ready to tender my resignation as game commissioner when requested by the governor.

"On Wednesday morning I was called to the governor's office and my resignation was requested by him. I returned to my office at once, prepared and signed my resignation and placed it in the governor's hands within a half hour after the request was made. At the same time I instigated the introduction in the senate of a joint resolution for the appointment of a joint committee of the senate and house, empowered to make a thorough investigation of the game department.

"My resignation was delivered at the governor's office at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. Within an hour after my resignation was presented to the governor, I received the following communication:

"Dear Sir: By virtue of the authority vested in me by Section 12 of Article V of the state constitution, I have this day removed you from the offices of state game commissioner and superintendent of the state game farm, for neglect of duty. Very truly yours,
"E. F. Dunne, Governor."

"I have nothing to fear, nothing to conceal in the administration of the affairs of the department during my term of office, as far as my personal conduct of the office is concerned or so far as it was possible for me to have any personal knowledge of the conduct of any of my subordinates. I therefore requested the introduction of the joint resolution, providing for a special committee to make a thorough investigation of the affairs of the department."
"J. A. Wheeler."

HEALTHY WOMEN SCARCE

Is The Verdict of Scientific Investigation.

How many women to you know who are perfectly well, strong and healthy as a woman should be. They may not be sick enough to lie in bed—but they are run-down, thin, nervous, tired and debilitated.

Women are so active nowadays and so much is expected of them, that they constantly overdo, and suffer from headache, backache, nervousness and kindred ills.

Such women need Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil which will create an appetite, tone up the digestive organs, make pure blood and create strength.

Mrs. W. G. Ritchie, Patchogue, N. Y., says: "Vinol is certainly the best tonic I have ever taken. I was run down and tired all the time, but, thanks to Vinol I am feeling all right again."

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that you money will be returned if it does not help you. Lee P. Alcott, Jacksonville, Ill.

STATE CAPITAL POLITICAL TALK.

Just now it is safe to say that Springfield is the greatest political hot bed in the union. Although the Dunne administration has been under way for three months and more only a real beginning has been made in the matter of distributing the spoils of party victory which are at of these matters just because the reason does not lie in the fact that none of the faithful want the offices, perish the thought, but complications arise from time to time and the pressure from different quarters is so strong that it is probable that the governor delays action in some later on. Speaker McKinley may be finds himself in the center of a great political maelstrom.

Just so long as there is an unfilled job with a hundred of more hungry Democrats ready to take it just so long will the political gossips be busy. The latest story from the state capital and which seems to have every appearance of being founded on fact, is that a few months later on Speaker McKinley may be a member of Governor Dunne's own family, this son-in-law in fact. Further the story is that no appointment will be made for the post of insurance commissioner until after the legislature has adjourned and the present speaker is ready to surrender that position and accept appointment as insurance commissioner himself. The insurance commissioner through salary and fees gets a yearly stipend which would last the average man a life-time. To still further keep the affairs of the insurance department within the family it is said that Speaker McKinley's younger brother, now living in Chicago, is to be the attorney for the department. The position pays a salary of $4,000 and the duties are not onerous.

The feeling now seems to be in so far as factional strife is concerned that the Sullivan adherents will get small recognition. In fact a disinterested observer is impressed with the thought that the plan is to fight Sullivan to a finish and that any man who certainly wears a Sullivan collar is out of the running. The feeling is growing that Governor Dunne is developing steadily a lust for political supremacy in Illinois and that he has aspirations as a candidate for the vice presidency four years hence. Political prognosticators have even gone so far as to say that the governor already is laying plans with a view to being a running mate with Bryan.

Of course national politics are more or less interwoven with state politics at Springfield in so far as office seekers are concerned. According to stories in circulation there the applicants for office in Pike county, a stronghold of democracy, are like the sands of the sea. Somehow or other the affairs of Pike seem to have gotten mixed up with those of Brown county and to the loss of the Pike county party leaders. It seems that Mr. Orr and W. D. Davis of Mt. Sterling were applicants for the postmastership of that city and that Mr. Davis in order to clear the atmosphere for his success prevailed upon Senator Manny to endorse Mr. Orr for a place on the Chester penitentiary board. This interfered with the plans of J. D. Hess of Pittsfield, who had his eye on the Chester position. Then it became known that Judge Doocy of Pittsfield could not land the position of attorney for the insurance commissioner and finally Judge Bradburn of Pittsfield was convinced that his chances of membership on the state board of arbitration were slim. To add to the complications in Pike came the intimation from Attorney Crowe that he had the certain assurance that he would be the next postmaster of Pittsfield. This is said to have brought forth a vigorous protest from other party men there. Anyhow while the postmastership has nothing special to do with the case, some of the politicians in Pike are feeling sore at Brown county for getting an appointment which has been charged up to the district and so has interfered with their plans.

ADDRESSES SCIENCE SOCIETY.
Washington, April 24.—In an address here tonight at the banquet of the National Academy of Sciences which today concluded the celebration of its fiftieth anniversary meeting, Vice-president Marshall criticized the experts whose services, he said, could be retained in the legislative assemblies and courts of the court for from $50 to $500 to testify to any side of any question. Other speakers were the retiring British Ambassador Mr. Bryce, Senator Burton of Ohio, Dr. S. Weir Mitchell and Dr. W. W. Keen of Philadelphia, the latter president of the American Philosophical society.

TRAINING SHIP BURNS.
New York, April 25.—The granite state training ship of the First Battalion, New York naval militia, formerly the frigate New Hampshire, built soon after the war of 1812, took fire at her berth in the Hudson river at Ninety-seventh street, shortly after midnight. The fire started in the foremast where a large quantity of ammunition was stored. This was removed. Several seamen jumped overboard when men in the flames and five were overcome by smoke and taken to a hospital.

TELLS ABOUT LIFE IN THE LAND OF JAPAN

First came the postal card department, where from immense rolls of paper the cards receive their first impression and are at the same time cut into sheets of 25 each. A different color was given the return cards from the other and then they were sent to the cutting room, where 400 sheets were placed in the great cutting machine, which went through them in a second or two and when cut to proper size they were turned over to girls to be counted. I have seen rapid work in my day, but never anything to compare with the swiftness of these maidens. It is said that in a day of nine hours they will count 131,000 cards and I could easily believe it. The cards are put up in packages of 200 each and these are tied into bundles of 2,000 each and sent out for distribution.

For printing money they have a set of hand machines similar to those used in the bureau of printing and engraving in Washington City, but they have in addition two ingenious machines which do the work of a good many persons. The chemical room was interesting, as there the material for the important inks used on the bills are tested and decided on. Then we saw the ink department, for each note has three colors and impressions and there the work was thorough, as elsewhere, and all through the plant we saw more or less machinery from our country, some from Germany and some from England. The public printing department was quite extensive and did all sorts of printing needed by the administration. They had both English and native work and the latter requires a great deal of room, for there is generally a character for each word and the compositor must travel a long way sometimes among the cases and even rooms in setting up a line. Just how a stenographer manages in the native language is more than I can imagine.

There are employed in the various departments of this plant 3,000 persons, many of them girls, and some little ones, and over each department is a solemn visaged manager or overseer and all seemed to move with clock like precision. Before the employees in the money department go home they are searched carefully that none may carry away any cash.

A School of Wrestling.
One of the interesting sights to which we gained admission through our good host was the school of jiu jitsu or wrestling and it was truly a remarkable sight. The apartment was about 50 to 60 feet in extent and covered with rice straw matting and composition two inches thick, so that a fall was not dangerous or painful. There were something like a hundred young men half wrestling and half resting. Each wore a pair of light colored, short pants and a shirt open in front, both garments nearly white and made of some very strong material, and the way those boys, barefooted, slung one another around was indeed a caution. One would think they would break their necks and pound the life out of their bodies, but while we were there no one was hurt, though I am told they do sometimes sustain severe injuries.

It was interesting to see them at work and the way they went at it. When any two would agree to wrestle they would bow profoundly to each other and then they would go down with a whack that would seem to break every bone in his body, but he would come up smiling and go at it again and then sometimes they would wrestle on the floor, each seeing how long he could hold the other down and the signal for surrender was a clap of the hands or a clap on the body of the victor by the vanquished.

We observed one medium sized man, dark skinned with especially black and slightly bushy hair, whom whom no one could overcome. A big fellow tried till he was worn out and then intruded several others tried it, but he stayed on the floor ready for the next till he had done up a good number and then he retired and dressed and came to where we were and the guide introduced to us Prof. Mikune, teacher of jiu jitsu in the Imperial university. We decided that the boys would surely respect such an instructor.

The young men in the department number about 300 and they are a stalwart set and with such fearful exercise they surely ought to die or become very strong. The years are designated by the colors of the gi-ko which they tie around their bodies. Blue first, white second, brown third and black fourth. The men ranking in this manly art are few. Prof. Yamashita of the higher normal school stands at the head; Prof. Ikuka of the Keio university comes next; then our friend, Prof. Mikune, follows; Nikano of the metropolitan police force next, and after him Yamaoka of the dental department of the state university.

For rugged gymnastics I think this wrestling takes the lead of anything I have yet seen. The boys all looked in fine condition and after wrestling sat down in a cold room without wraps.

The Military Museum.
The military museum in this city is one of the most I ever saw and is rather ahead of anything of the kind in Washington City. About the grounds are mementoes of the wars in which the country has been engaged. A battered ventilation funnel from warship and pierced with many holes came from a Chinese man of war and another from a Russian vessel. Several pierced targets testified to the accuracy of Japanese gunners and about the grounds were cannon taken in different conflicts and now out of date and used as are ancient pieces in our country as ornaments for parks and the like where there are places for them.

The interior of the building is finely arranged and so fixed that all spectators must go in the same direction and see the whole exhibit systematically. There is in the building a sample of almost every kind of a fire-

FAILS TO TAKE VOTE.
Charleston, W. Va., April 24.—The special convention of West Virginia miners involved in the coal strike of Kanawha county, up to midnight failed to take a vote on the proposition of Governor H. D. Hatfield for a settlement of the trouble. The convention will meet again tomorrow.

At midnight Governor Hatfield issued what he termed an ultimatum. The state executive gives warning that "this strife and dissension must cease within thirty-six hours."

AN ESTIMATE OF THE CHARACTER AND WORK OF STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS. (By W. D. Wood.)

At Illinois college, W. D. Wood made an address on the occasion of the centenary of Douglas which the Journal is permitted to print herewith. Mr. Wood is a thorough student, especially well versed in the history of Illinois and the nation. It so happens therefore that his estimate of Douglas is of more than ordinary importance.

One hundred years ago Thursday Stephen Arnold Douglas was born in Brandon, Vermont. His father, a physician, a graduate of Middlebury college, died when the son was a few weeks old. The very mention of that little college suggests its contribution to our own college in the person of one whose presence enriched this institution and whose influence was most beneficent in this heart of the Mississippi valley. Hopes and plans that looked toward a college course at Middlebury for young Douglas were not realized, and in 1837 the westerner though so possessed him that he left his home in Canandaigua, New York, and traveled westward, but with no fixed destination. His fixity of purpose, however, is attested by the fact that a sickness of many weeks duration, on the way, and the entreaties of the members of his family, were together not equal to diverting him from his chosen course.

In the autumn of 1833 he reached St. Louis, having traveled most of the way by lake, canal or river, but not finding conditions to his liking, or suited to his needs, Jacksonville became his objective point and the Illinois river his highway. Among his first acquaintances was Murray McConnell, who became and continued his adviser and benefactor. The necessity of earning something at once became urgent, and, as teaching seemed to him the most promising occupation, he went to Winchester seeking an opportunity to teach. Here his first acquaintance of note was E. G. Miner, a fellow Vermonter, who, like his fellow Democrat, McConnell, became and remained his counselor and friend. Douglas' relationship with these two men strikingly illustrates one of his most notable personal characteristics—the ability to make and hold friends, whose attachment was instantaneous as their adherence was continuous. The study of law, begun before coming to Illinois, was continued while teaching in Winchester, and in 1834, when scarcely 21, was admitted to the bar in Jacksonville. It was here, then, that the two foremost Democratic national leaders since Jackson began their practice of the law, and in point of time almost exactly fifty years apart. In the following year he was chosen state's attorney, but resigned the office after his election to the legislature of 1836.

He was youngest of the members, and his election was the real beginning of a political career covering a period of twenty-five years, and marked by unparalleled activity and prominence. In turn he was register of the United States land office at Springfield, and, in the state, secretary of state and judge of the supreme court. As his first real activities were in the state legislature, so it was as a national legislator that he acquired fame and influence. Indeed, the atmosphere of the legislative assembly was the very breath of his nostrils, and from the time the endearing and fitting title, "The Little Giant" was bestowed by his admirers in recognition of his masterliness in debate, until he became the greatest debater of his time, and one of the greatest debaters of any time, his dominion was that of an outstanding legislator.

Defeated for congress in 1838 by a narrow margin, but emerging from the contest with a greatly strengthened hold upon his followers and fellow partisans, he was so unmistakably marked for promotion that his election to the twenty-eighth congress, when less than 30 years old, was a most natural outcome, as was his reelection in 1844. A second re-election followed in 1846, but before congress assembled he was chosen senator by the Illinois legislature. During his second term in the house of representatives he was chairman of its most important committee, that of territories, and he became chairman of the senate committee on territories on entering that body. It was under his directing hand that laws were made organizing Minnesota, Kansas, Nebraska, New Mexico, Utah, Oregon and Washington as territories, and admitting Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, California and Oregon as states.

In 1850, he secured the passage of the Illinois Central railroad bill, with its provisions for a land grant, and for payment into the Illinois state treasury of 7 per cent of the company's gross earnings annually. The motives prompting the measure were partly economic, partly political, and it stands today as one of the wisest act of practical statesmanship ever enacted into law.

In 1852 Douglas had become a national figure, and was the rising hope of a large section of his party. Though still under 40, in the Democratic national convention he divided with veterans like Cass, Marcy and Buchanan the attention of the country and the votes of the delegates, receiving at one time the support of a plurality of the convention. In 1856 his qualities and leadership made him a formidable candidate for the nomination, but when his foremost rival received a majority vote in the convention, Douglas, adhering to his belief in majority rule, withdrew in order that Buchanan might be given the two-thirds necessary to nominate.

Of course the slavery question was the overshadowing one, and the attitude of Douglas, as of every other public man, toward it is the criterion by which all are judged. It was about the greatest of those "unsettled questions that have no pity for the repose of nations." A son of Douglas' earliest Illinois benefactor, writing of the presidential campaign of 1848, has said:

Nine-tenths of the northern Democrats were hostile to slavery at heart, but they recognized the fact that it had its existence in the old states by inherited law, and in a few new ones by the voluntary action of their own people. Morally it was indefensible, but politically they had no right to interfere. They would fight rather than it should be imposed on themselves, but the southern people had precisely the same right to keep it that the northern people had to refuse it, and furthermore, for all the needs for which governments are instituted among men they regarded this union of states as of far higher value than the whole black race."

Douglas at this time had been in congress for five years, and it was only two years later that the compromise measures of 1850 were enacted. In 1854 his Kansas-Nebraska bill was passed, the gist of which was in the sentence, "It being the true intent and meaning of this act not to legislate slavery into any territory or state, nor to exclude it therefrom, but to leave the people thereof perfectly free to form and regulate their domestic institutions in their own way, subject only to the constitution of the United States." This is what Douglas designated "popular sovereignty," while to his opponents it was "squatter sovereignty." In the contest leading up to the passage of the bill Douglas was the towering figure—the "little giant" in very fact. Alone he faced the giants of a new order, Seward, Chase, and Sumner, each of them his senior in years, though his junior in congressional experience, and all of them exponents of ideas little recognized when he first entered congress. It was in the course of his speech closing the great debate that Seward said to him: "I hope the senator will yield for a moment, because I never had so much respect for him as I have tonight." The bill passed both houses of congress, but the opposition it encountered in the north was widespread, and the effect of that opposition to its responsible author was startlingly stated by him when he said "he could travel from Boston to Chicago by the light of his own burning effigies." Has the language been used to express a more striking figure?

The Lincoln-Douglas debates of 1858 have been studied and commented on largely with reference to bearings on subsequent events, and their relation to Lincoln's fame. Some of the expressed opinions of the two men were not very far apart, though of course they were diverging, and the divergence was widening rapidly and irrevocably, but it was a notable year for Douglas aside from the debates and their consequences, immediate or remote. On the assembling of congress in Dec., 1857, there was a break between Douglas and the Buchanan administration, then dominated by Southern opinion touching slavery. The immediate cause of difference was the Leecompton constitution, that aimed at making Kansas a slave state. The scheme ran counter to his popular sovereignty ideas, and he adhered to his record and his principles. In the debate he said:

"I intend to perform my duty in accordance with my own convictions. Neither the frowns of power nor the influence of patronage will change my action, or drive me from my principles. I stand firmly, immovably upon those great principles of self-government and state sovereignty, upon which the campaign was fought and the election won. . . . If standing firmly by my principles, I shall be driven into private life, it is a fate that has no terrors for me. I prefer private life, preserving my own self respect and manhood, to abject and servile submission to executive will. If the alternative be private life or servile obedience to executive will, I am prepared to retire. Official position has no charms for me when deprived of that freedom of thought and action which becomes a gentleman and senator."

The penalty for these sentiments of defiant independence and revolt, uttered before the great debates of 1858, was paid by Douglas after his re-election to the senate had been assured, when he was removed from the chairmanship of the committee on territories. Then, as later, he had an opportunity to test the comparative grinding qualities of the upper and nether millstone.

All this was preparatory to 1860—the culminating year. In two Democratic national conventions Douglas had been a real factor, but this year, both before and during the Charleston convention, he was the only factor of influence or importance. Practically he was the only candidate, and his candidacy the only one that amounted to respectability. The Charleston convention witnessed the real beginning of the secession movement, and when the delegates re-assembled at Baltimore and nominated Douglas, the absence of the seceding members, representing the lower southern states, evidenced a divided, disheartened and already defeated party. In the greatest of all presidential contests, Douglas was clearly the central figure, and he was the first presidential candidate to make speeches in his own behalf. His was a desperate case, and he a masterful speaker and together the man and the occasion justified the action to public opinion. The burden of his utterances was the preservation of the union, and it now appears that he, more than almost any one else, realized that the union was in danger. But the stars in their courses fought against Douglas, and in November the result foreshadowed by division at Charleston became a fact.

The months immediately following the election of his rival furnished a searching test of the defeated leader's qualities. It was a trying period for all, and to none more than Douglas, but the preservation of the union was so much a religion to him that personal or partisan considerations had no weight with him as against that overwhelming necessity. In the month following the inauguration, after an interview with the president at the white house, he penned the following dispatch:

"Senator Douglas called upon the president, and had an interesting conversation on the present condition of the country. The substance of it was, on the part of Mr. Douglas, that while he was unalterably opposed to the administration in all its political issues, he was fully prepared to sustain the president in the exercise of all his constitutional functions, to preserve the union, maintain the government and to defend the federal capital. A firm policy and prompt action were necessary. The capital was in danger and must be defended at all hazards, and at any expense of men and money. He spoke of the present and the future without references to the past."

On April 25th, 1861, he addressed the members of the Illinois legislature, on their invitation, and, all things considered, it was the greatest speech of his life. Probably, also, it was the greatest utterance ever made within the walls of the old state house at Springfield, and, counting results, one of the greatest even made in America. One of his severest and least friendly critics has said of it: "I do not think that it is possible for a human being to produce a more prodigious effect with spoken words." Later, in Chicago, in the wigwam where Lincoln was nominated, he took a still more advanced position, and his words were still more emphatic. A few sentences indicate the tone and temper: "The conspiracy is now known. Armies have been raised, war is levied to accomplish it. There are only two sides to the question. There can be no neutrals in this war; only patriots or traitors."

But he was not permitted to witness more than the beginnings of the struggle for the maintenance of the union, for death claimed him early in June, 1861, less than two months after his 48th birthday. It is futile to conjecture what might have been the result to him and his country if he had lived, but there is no question that in his death the union cause lost one of its sturdiest supporters and most loyal and influential adherents.

The overshadowing fame of Lincoln naturally has weakened the prestige of his foremost rival, while Douglas' attitude toward slavery has further detracted from his standing and influence. But if fate has been not altogether kind to him, history will surely be just. The discriminating historians of the future will find no more interesting or fruitful period than the decade preceding the civil war, and that immediately following, and when the search-light is turned on Douglas and his record, as it will be, enduring qualities of high value will be revealed. Himself a most engaging personality; his career had in it much of the romantic and something of the tragic, many parts were highly dramatic, but it was all interesting; and interesting partly because the man was so fallibly human. Like one of John Hay's heroes, "he wasn't no saint." However, he is fairly entitled to be judged by his best and not his least worthy acts and qualities, and no fair judgment can be made without including in the reckoning the Illinois Central railroad bill and his absolute loyalty to the cause of the union when disunion was imminent. Together these acts will be Douglas' monument, his vindication and his title to lasting fame.

"KISSING DAY" AT HUNGERFORD

London, April 24.—One of the few ancient customs that has survived the changes of time, and the fame of which has spread throughout the world, is "Kissing day," which was observed as usual today at Hungerford, the Lancastrian borough on the western borders of Berkshire. Lusty blasts of the ancient horn were blown early this morning by the town crier, attired in a new livery for the occasion. Then the "tuttimen" went forth with floridly-decorated staves, their duty being to kiss all the ladies whom they met, and demand a penny from every male householder they called upon. Meanwhile the Hocktide jury were meeting in the town hall for the transaction of more serious business, appointing a constable, who is coroner and mayor combined, ale tasters, leather sealers, keepers of the keys of the common coffer, and other ancient officials whose duties are more picturesque than practical.

TEXAS T. P. A. IN SESSION.

Fort Worth, Texas, April 24.—Commercial travelers from far and near trooped into Fort Worth today for the twenty-fourth annual convention of the Texas division of the Travelers' Protective association. Beginning with a welcome meeting tonight the convention will continue its business sessions over Friday and Saturday. Mayor Milam will welcome the delegates at the first of the regular sessions tomorrow morning. In the intervals between sessions there will be trips to places of interest in and about the city and several features of entertainment.

The Sox Were Able to Gather Eleven Hits Off Mitchell But Unable to Score More Than One Run—Weaver's Fielding Was Feature of Game.

CHICAGO, APRIL 24.—Outfielder Williams of St. Louis today made three triple base hits in four times at bat and Chicago lost the game by 3 to 1. The locals hit Mitchell freely, but were unable to score more than one run. The fielding of Weaver of Chicago prevented the visitors from scoring on three other occasions, when they had a man as far as third with only one out. CHICAGO ATHLETES LEAVE FOR PHILADELPHIA RELAY

Team Which Won the Mile Event at Des Moines Saturday Will Contest at Eastern City.

Chicago, April 24.—Six University of Chicago athletes left today for Philadelphia to take part in the annual relay carnival on Saturday. The relay team which won the mile event at Des Moines last Saturday will contest in the same race at Philadelphia. In addition, Ward, a sprinter, and Thomas, a pole vaulter, will represent the local school in the invitation events of the eastern games. The relay team in its last practice made the mile in 3:26 4-5, which is 2-5 of a second better than was registered at Des Moines.

JACK JOHNSON PAYS
$1,000 FINE FOR SMUGGLING

Asks Twenty-four Hours in Which to Pay When He Finds the Costs Amount to $740.

Chicago, April 24.—Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, appeared before a United States commissioner today to pay a fine of $1,000 imposed upon him for concealing a necklace which had been smuggled into this country. But when he learned that costs in the case amounted to $740 additional, he was asked and was given twenty-four hours in which to make the payment. Of the costs $655 was for fees and expenses of witnesses who came to Chicago from New York but found no opportunity to testify when Johnson pleaded nolo contendere.

AMBASSADOR BRYCE'S
FAREWELL

Washington, D. C., April 24.— After six years of service as British ambassador at Washington, the Rt.
Hon. James Bryce paid farewell visits today to President Wilson and Secretary Bryan and took leave of many friends and acquaintances in the capital. Tomorrow the retiring ambassador will set forth for the Orient by way of New York and San Francisco. Tomorrow evening the Pilgrims of the United States are to give a dinner in his honor at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York.
President Joseph H. Choate will preside and propose the health of the departing pilgrim, while the only other speech will be Mr. Bryce's response. This occasion and this speech will be Mr. Bryce's farewell to the people of the United States.

Sir Thomas Lipton, Who Has Asked For Fourth Chance to Contend For the Great Yacht Trophy.

For the fourth time the world is forced to express deep admiration for the daring sportsmanship of Sir Thomas Lipton. The Irish baronet has issued a challenge to the New York Yacht club for another chance to win the America's cup. He has tried three times for the trophy with the Shamrock I, II, and III, the last of which races took place about ten years ago. Sir Thomas has declared that the rule which compels a cup challenger to come across the ocean under its own sail, thus having its racing lines knocked out of true by great waves, was an insurmountable and unfair difficulty. The race, if it occurs, will be in 1914. Above is one of the latest pictures of Sir Thomas.

IDEAL BAKERY

Two Generations
Now Using It

Nation's Most Popular Laxative Keeping Millions of American Families in Good Health.

There must be genuine merit to an article that has stood the test of two generations of users.
In the field of medicine none has had greater success, and retained that success to greater degree than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is now being used by two generations of people. Its use in families is constantly becoming more general. The reason, primarily, is that it has merit. It is what it represents itself to be, a laxative- tonic; it does not make exaggerated claims nor use coarse language to set forth its virtue.

It is a medicine, but so mild and gentle a medicine that thousands of mothers give it to their infants, and yet in a slightly larger dose, it is equally effective for grown-ups. It is for any disorder of the stomach, liver or bowels, for constipation no matter how chronic, for dyspepsia no matter how severe, for biliousness, sour stomach, gas on the stomach, headaches, drowsiness after eating, and similar complaints arising from a clogged-up condition of the bowels. It is pleasant to the taste and does not gripe. It can be used with safety and good results by anyone at any age or in any condition of health, and that person's health will improve. Every druggist sells it and the price is only fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

Thousands of families throughout the country are never without it in

ELSIE LEWIS.

the house, among them Mrs. Clara Lewis, Beck's Store, Ky., who gave it to her baby, Elsie, while teething, and says: "It is the best medicine in the world for the stomach and bowels." She writes that she keeps it in the house for every member of the family, takes it herself and that her mother recovered her health and gained in flesh by using Dr.
Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address —a postal will do—to W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, mailed you.

HAIR CAME OUT
BY HANDFULS

Terrible Itching. Began with Rash.
Dandruff Literally Covered Scalp.
Entirely Cured by Cuticura Soap and Ointment Within One Month.

3002 Cass St., St. Louis, Mo.—"For five years I suffered with itching of my body and scalp. My trouble began with a rash on my lower limbs which was very annoying and my scalp was literally covered with dandruff. My hair used to come out by the handfuls and the itching of my body and scalp was terrible. I had used almost all the skin remedies on the market with no results, when I wrote for a little Cuticura Soap and Ointment and it gave me instant relief. Within one month's use of the Cuticura Soap and Ointment I was entirely cured. I cannot discover one strand of my hair coming out and I have not lost a minute of sleep since using the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, which entirely cured me of itching of my body and scalp in its worst form. I also find the Cuticura Soap a benefit in shaving." (Signed) Charles Judlin, Dec. 8, 1911.

For red, rough, chapped and bleeding hands, itching, burning palms, shapeless nails and painful finger-ends, a one-night Cuticura treatment works wonders. Soak hands, on retiring, in hot water and Cuticura Soap. Dry, anoint with Cuticura Ointment, and wear old, loose gloves during the night.
Cuticura Soap (25c) and Cuticura Ointment (50c) are sold throughout the world.
Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. book on the skin and scalp. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

HORSES SUBJECT TO MANY KINDS OF DISEASES

Comparative Few Ailments Caused by Germs—Colic More Dangerous Than All Others.

More horses die every year from what is called colic than all the other diseases put together. What is called colic takes in all the acute diseases of the digestive organs, says Donald McIntosh, an authority on veterinary subjects.

First, impaction of the stomach, which is caused by horses getting to a bin of grain and eating too much or by feeding the animal too much when it is in an exhausted condition from work or driving. In such cases the stomach has not the power of digesting the food, which swells and undergoes fermentation, causing the walls of the stomach to distend to such a degree that it may cause rupture, or the animal may die from exhaustion or from suffocation by the stomach pressing on the lungs. This trouble can always be prevented by keeping grain where the horse cannot get at it, and by not feeding a horse its grain until it has eaten a little hay to strengthen the stomach.

Spasmodic colic is caused by overwork and irregular feeding, and by giving the horse water when heated and exhausted, and by watering the horse after it has been fed grain. The water will wash some of the food into the intestine before it is digested, causing more or less irritation of the intestine, resulting frequently in spasmodic colic. This can nearly always be prevented by feeding just enough to keep the animal in good condition, and no more, and by always watering before feeding grain.

Flatulent Colic.
Flatulent colic is caused by feeding large quantities of food when the animal is in an exhausted condition from overwork or long drives, also by eating green grass or clover, especially when they are wet. Great care should be taken when changing from dry to green food. This form of colic is very dangerous to the life of the animal, as when the intestine becomes greatly distended with gas, rupture is liable to occur. When the causes of this derangement are known it can almost always be prevented.

Impaction of the large intestine is caused by feeding on dry, tough, old grass or overripe hay and straw. It is also caused by horses eating corn stalk leaves, especially when the bit is in the mouth. The above mentioned substances are tough and fibrous and are often swallowed by the horse before they are properly masticated, and frequently become matted in the intestine, impacting it, causing a stoppage and often death. This derangement can be prevented by not feeding such substances to the horse, or if these have to be fed, giving the animal a bran mash once a day and plenty of water to drink, which will help to prevent the accumulation from forming.

Inflammation of the bowels is caused by long drives, which exhaust the animal; allowing the animal to stand in the cold, or giving it cold water; musty hay or oats is also a cause. By avoiding the above causes this disease can always be prevented.

Azoturia is caused by allowing a horse that is in good condition and used to work every day, to stand idle in the stable for two or three days and giving it its full allowances of food, then taking it out and driving it. After going a short distance the animal becomes lame in one or both hind legs and if not stopped at once will fall down. This is a very common disease in horses in the spring and fall, and can always be prevented by cutting down the amount of food usually fed to the horse when at work, and giving half an ounce nitrate of potassium twice a day in a small bran mash or giving the animal exercise if it is getting its full allowance of food.

Swollen legs (Impangitis), also is caused by feeding too much food and not giving enough exercise. This trouble frequently causes grease heels in horses. Lymphangitis can also be prevented when the cause is known.

Faulty Feeding Causes Disease.
There are also a number of skin diseases caused by faulty feeding. Irregular and faulty feeding are the most common disease causes of the above mentioned troubles. There is a rule that can be laid down as to how much food a horse requires to keep it in a good, healthy condition, as some horses require more food than others. The size of the horse does not count, as it may take just as much to keep a thousand pound horse as one of fifteen hundred pounds or even more. The amount of food depends on the condition of the stomach to digest the food and the power of the intestines to assimilate it, the amount of work the animal has to do and the man who has the care of the horse. Some men use the animal roughly; such as jerking the reins, yelling, and sometimes kicking the animal. This rough treatment frightens the animal, keeping it in an irritable condition. Horses should always be treated kindly if they are to be kept in good health. By careful watching a man can soon find out just how much hay and grain should be fed to keep it in good condition, and if this rule is followed it will, in a great measure, prevent most of the diseases which I have mentioned.

RAILROAD NOTES.

A letter just issued may effect for a time the efforts of the Hannibal merchants in securing a free bridge over the Mississippi river. This letter is from Henry Miller, general manager of the Wabash, which owns the bridge at Hannibal. He states that the Wabash and the Hannibal Bridge company at present are engaged in a controversy which may lead to the erection of a new bridge. "Until this matter assumes definite form, the proposed agreement must be held in abeyance," writes Mr. Miller.

A decree ordering the sale of the property of the Mexico, Santa Fe and Perry Traction company was given by Judge James D. Barnett at an adjourned term of the Audrain county circuit court at Mexico, Mo. The property is to be sold at auction to the highest bidder May 17. The property is to be sold under foreclosure proceedings brought by the bondholders. J. D. Bates and others are plaintiffs in the case against the traction company asking for sale of the road.

The Illinois Central railroad may become a farmer. The dairy and poultry department of the University of Illinois has received a request for enlightenment. "We want to establish a farm to supply our dining cars with fresh eggs, milk and cream. Is it practicable? What will it cost?" This is the request for information. The road uses 100 gallons of cream, 2,000 gallons of milk and 4,000 dozens of eggs monthly. The farm proposed would be along the railroad somewhere in Illinois.

CHANCERY NOTICE.

State of Illinois, ss.
Morgan County, ss.

In the Circuit Court, to the May Term, A. D. 1913.—In Chancery: James R. Large, Complainant vs. Gracie E. Large, Defendant.

Notice is hereby given to the above named Gracie E. Large, defendant, that the above named James R. Large, complainant, filed his bill of complaint in said court on the chancery side thereof, and thereupon a summons issued out of said court against you said Gracie E. Large, returnable to the first day of the next regular term, as is by law required, and that said suit is still pending. Now unless you the said Gracie E. Large shall be and appear before the circuit court on the first day of the next regular term thereof, to be held on the second Monday of May, A. D. 1913, at the Court house in the city of Jacksonville, in said county of Morgan, and plead, answer or demur to complainant's bill, the matters and things therein charged, will be taken as confessed by you and a decree entered against you in accordance with the prayer of said bill.

Dated at Jacksonville, Ill., this 16th day of April A. D. 1913.
Eugene D. Pratt,
Clerk of said Court.

QUICK RELIEF FOR RHEUMATISM

George W. Koon, Lawton, Mich., says: "Dr. Deitchon's Relief for Rheumatism has given my wife wonderful benefit for rheumatism. She could not lift hand or foot, had to be lifted for two months. She began to use of the remedy and improved rapidly. On Monday she could not move and on Wednesday she got up, dressed herself and walked out for breakfast." Sold by L. P. Allcott, druggist.

ELIMINATING THE COMMISSION MEN

Chicago, Ill., April 24.—The first practical step to demonstrate the possibility of economy in distribution of farm products is scheduled to be taken tomorrow, when a large shipment of fresh vegetables is to be started from Texas to Chicago. The plan has been worked out by an association of Texas farmers. By eliminating the commission men and selling direct from the farmer to the consumer it is believed that a great reduction in prices will be possible. Distributing stations are to be established in various localities of the city. Hampers containing an assortment of fresh vegetables enough to last a family of five one week, will be sold for $1.20. It is reckoned that a similar supply would cost from $3.50 to $4.50 under ordinary sale.

The Woman's Relief Corps will meet this afternoon at 2:30 at G. A. R. hall on West Morgan street, by order of Mrs. W. H. Jordan, Pres.

Mary F. Taylor, Pres. Cor.

RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS ASTOUNDED

RHEUMA Acts On Kidneys, Liver and Blood the First Day—and Out Goes Uric Acid Poison.

Anybody can afford to pay 50 cents to get rid of terrible Rheumatism, Sciatica or Gout, and that's all RHEUMA costs at Coover and Shreve's who say that if it doesn't do all that is claimed for it, money back.

It's wonderful how speedily this simple remedy takes hold and how the sore muscles limber up and the swollen joints come down to normal. Make no mistake—RHEUMA costs but little, but it's the best remedy you can find to drive Rheumatic poisons from the system and bring back health to misery-racked bodies. "I had Rheumatism for a long while, and tried many medicines, but was not cured until I used RHEUMA. I cannot praise RHEUMA too highly. My advice to those suffering from Rheumatism is to use case."—C. B. Lanham, Sattles, W. Va., April 27, 1912.

MEET TO DISCUSS MODERN DRAMA

Chicago, Ill., April 24.—The third annual convention of the Drama League began at the Hotel LaSalle in this city today and will continue until the end of the week. The general subject selected for discussion is "Modern Theater Movements and Tendencies in Drama." Appearing on the program for papers or addresses are Cosmo Hamilton, the English dramatist; Mrs. Frances Squire Potter, chairman of the literature department of the General Federation of Women's clubs; Dr. Felix E. Schelling, of the University of Pennsylvania; Raymond MacDonald Alden, of the University of Illinois; and Clayton Hamilton, of Columbia university.

Drive Headache Away With Musterole

A headache remedy without the dangers of "headache medicine." You run no risk when you use MUSTEROLE to relieve that headache and miserable feeling from cold or congestion. And it acts at once! MUSTEROLE is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. You rub it on the forehead and temples. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister. Used only externally, and in no way can affect stomach and heart as some internal medicines do.

Best for Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Croup, Stiff Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, all pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it prevents pneumonia.) At your druggist's in 25c and 50c jars, and a special hospital size for $2.50.

Accept no substitute. If your druggist cannot supply you, send 25c or 50c to the Musterole company, Cleveland, Ohio, and we will mail you a jar, postage prepaid.

"Have been helped many times by Musterole when I have had severe headaches."—Mrs. F. R. Snyder, Brooklyn, N. Y.

THE WORLD'S LATEST FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

MARKET INFLUENCED BY UNFAVORABLE FACTORS

Trading was not heavy and pressure not severe.

Latest Unfavorable Developments Turn the Market Already of Bearish Sentiment and Bring About Substantial Declines.

(By Associated Press)
New York, April 24.—Influenced by a number of unfavorable factors the stock market today turned downward rather sharply. Sentiment has been predominantly bearish for some time, and it required only the additional weight of the latest developments to turn the market from the narrow groove which it has followed recently and bring about substantial declines. Trading was not heavy, however, and pressure was not severe, except at intervals.

While selling was mainly professional it was apparent that liquidation was in progress in some parts of the market. This was indicated by the heaviness of standard investment stocks and seasoned bonds, which declined as readily as the speculative issues.

Many new low records for the movement were made and in the list were such stocks as New York Central, Northwestern, Illinois Central and American tobacco. Losses of 1 to 2 points were numerous, with declines among the less stable industrial running as high

ILLINOIS STATE NEWS.

Hay Gets Big Check—George B. Chase, the St. Louis man who has been buying coal rights near Taylorville, gave Logan Hay of Springfield a check for $12,845 for his coal north of Taylorville. Mr. Hay receives about three times as much as other land owner, because he owns three times as much land. The check is for $90 acres of coal rights.

Threshermen To Meet—The spring meeting of the Illinois Brotherhood of Threshermen will convene in Busa hall on Friday and Saturday. A large attendance of representative threshermen and farmers throughout the state is expected. An interesting and instructive program is being prepared.

Litchfield Masons Buy Building—Masonic lodges of Litchfield have purchased the opera house building here from Snell Brothers for $10,000. An additional $10,000 is to be expended to remodel and refit the building. Those who have seen the architect's plans say that the building when completed will be one of the most commodious and beautiful Masonic lodge buildings in the state of Illinois, excepting none.

Contract Awarded—The Public Service Construction company of Omaha, Neb., has been awarded the contract by the state board of administration to construct the new water works to be installed at the Anna State hospital at Anna. The bid of the Nebraska company, which was the lowest was $89,323.

Smallpox In Lee County—Because of an epidemic of smallpox in mild form at Lee Center, Willow Creek and Wyoming townships, Lee County State Board of Health has sent Dr. C. E. Crawford to those towns to assist in stamping out the disease.

Elgin Will Clean Up—Hoping that residents of Elgin will trim up their trees and shrubs neatly, Commissioner O'Connell of that city has announced that tree trimmings will be carried away by the city teams on the official cleanup days, May 5, 6 and 7.

Joliet Man Honored—Joliet has been honored in the selection of George Woodruff, president of the First National bank, as one of the two representatives of Illinois on the national commission which is to be sent abroad this year by the national government, for an investigation of farm credits of Europe.

Hunters, Body Found In River—After a month's search the body of Nelson Sheffield of Grand Detour was found floating in Rock River near Dixon by Jack Adams. Sheffield was drowned, March 10, while hunting duck on Rock River.

Child Burned to Death—The 4 year old son of Theodore Webster fell into the fire in a barbecue pit near Cairo and was burned to death before he could be pulled out.

Kane County's Farm Experts—J. E. Readheimer of the University of Illinois, Kane county's farm expert, will assume his duties under a three year contract June 1. In the meantime an office will be equipped for him in the county building and an automobile will be purchased for his use. Mr. Readheimer will be busy immediately on his arrival. Part of his first work will be to address meeting in every town in the county. Mr. Readheimer is to receive a salary of $4,000 a year.

AFTER SOUTH

AMERICAN TRADE
Boston, Mass., April 24.—Several hundred members of the Boston chamber of commerce, including many of the foremost manufacturers and business men of New England, sailed from this city today to begin a "trade extension tour" to South America. The party will proceed in a specially chartered steamer to Panama. After spending three days inspecting the canal work the trade missionaries will make their way down the west coast of South America in another steamer, and will cross the Andes in their trip from Valparaiso to Buenos Ayres and Rio Janeiro. The trip will consume nearly three months.

Sequel To Love For Doll

Maternal Instinct Greatly Developed by Teaching Children to Love their Dolls.

The little child's doll is mother to the most romantic fairy. And in the years that pass, the doll fades into the petals of a June rose, to evolve the most wonderful of all transformations.

And now comes a more serious period when the joy of real motherhood should be as tranquil as best effort can provide. This is accomplished with a wonderful remedy known as Mother's Friend, an external application so penetrating in its nature as to thoroughly lubricate every cord, nerve, muscle and tendon involved.

There will be no pain, none of that nausea or morning sickness, no sensation of distress or strain of expanding muscles. The nerves, too, will be calm, thus making the period one of restful days, of peaceful nights and a source of happiest anticipation.

The young, expectant mother must be carefully watched lest she become absorbed in those mental distresses which ill prepare her for the most important event in her life. Mother's Friend enables her to avoid all sensation of dread, worry or pain, and thus she is preserved in health and strength to take up the joyful task of motherhood.

You will find Mother's Friend on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle. Do not fail to use it regularly as directed. Write to-day to Bradfield Regulator Co., 135 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their most valuable little guide book for expectant mothers.

There is a wealth of instruction and comfort to be derived in reading this little book. It is plainly written, just what every woman wants to know, and will be a splendid little textbook for guidance, not only for yourself, but will make you helpful to others. And, in the meantime, do not fail to get a bottle of Mother's Friend at the drug store, and thus fortify yourself against any and all pain and discomfort.

ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS SOCIETY.

The annual report of Dr. T. O. Hardesty, president of the Anti-Tuberculosis Society was as follows:

To the members of the society:
The work of the society since our last meeting, April, 1911, has been progressive. We have not been able to accomplish as much as should have been owing to our inability to secure sufficient workers.

Early in 1911 Mrs. F. J. Heintz resigned as president, also Mrs. Jones resigned as a member of the executive board. The society was without a president until October 1911, when the executive board met and elected the present incumbent, Dr. C. E. Cole was elected secretary to fill the vacancy in that office. But little work was accomplished in 1911 and 1912 except the distributing of literature and bill posting, due to the fact that the funds on hand were not sufficient to instigate new work and our policy was to accumulate sufficient funds to carry out some special work.

I have always felt we would not accomplish what we should until we carried our work into the homes and come in direct contact with the individual. Grand stand play and much talk sounds big but actual good is accomplished only by coming quietly in touch with the individual and following up the case. People do not seem to understand the object of our work.

Might I say here it is not charitable as far as almsgiving is concerned, neither is it social work as relating to social adjustments. It should not be considered our duty to do actual nursing out in the city. A visiting nurse's duty is mostly investigating, educational along the lines of hygiene and clerical work.

The work of the clinic in diagnosis and personal hygiene with special reference to tuberculosis. While tuberculin treatment holds a secondary place, our sole aim is to teach the well how to keep well, to help the sick and instruct them how to keep from infecting others. The only hope we have of exterminating the disease is the prevention of infection unless science comes forward with a cure, which would be gladly welcomed by all.

The disease carrier is more dangerous to the community than those down with the disease. I fear the public does not appreciate the ravage of the disease and will not until some of their own are stricken and in spite of all that could be done they see them gradually slipping away till gone then the second and third go the same way.

Last year after being elected president I called the executive board together and suggested that the society give lectures on tuberculosis in a number of places in the city and in some of the towns in the county which will be reported by the secretary. That the statistics from the county records be brought up to date.

It was also reported that there was in the society's treasury about $275 and suggested that we secure a visiting nurse and try to get in personal touch with the cases in a systematic way. It was also suggested that a clinic be held for the proper systematic handling of the cases making diagnosis and keeping proper records of the same. It being the opinion of those in this line of work that a clinic and a nurse must go together neither could exist alone. These suggestions were adopted by the board and the president authorized to carry them out. Limiting the expense of the clinic and nurse to not exceed $75 per month, the expense at no time to exceed the money in the treasury.

The president found it impossible to secure the services of a regular nurse for $75 per month, the limit placed by the board.

Miss Genevieve Morrison kindly consented to try the work at $40 per month. Rooms were secured in the Unity building at $7 per month and an equipment quickly assembled. On May the 20th, 1912, the clinic was opened for work, holding the first clinic May 27, 1912, with fifteen patients, assisted by Drs. Dewey Milligan, Cole and Waltman. From that time till the present time the clinic has been held.

Until late in the fall the clinic was held at 10 a. m. Tuesday and 4 p. m. Friday. Supposed to last one hour but usually required two hours or longer. Since then the Friday session has been discontinued.

The report of the work of the clinic will be given by the nurse, Miss Morrison. It is easy in such a report to tell of the work accomplished but quite another thing to tell the actual good we have done. While we may not be able to say that we have cured completely a single case, the work is that of sowing, and I feel that the good accomplished will outlive our generation. This work is yours, we are the officers. We thank you for helping us do your work. As president I wish to thank all who extend a helping hand in the work and hope you will feel rewarded by knowing that you assisted.

We also thank the D. A. R. and the churches that made it possible to continue the work until the present time. A detailed report of the business of the society will be given by the secretary, treasurer and the visiting nurse. The outlook for the future will be given at the close of this hour by the incoming president.

PROGRESSIVE PITCH.

A party of about twenty of the friends of Mrs. Allen Abernathy were entertained at her home on North Main street and a very enjoyable evening spent. The game of progressive pitch occupied the attention of the guests for a portion of the evening. Prizes were awarded as follows: Ladies first to Miss Sadie Lott, second to Mrs. Richard McKay and third to Miss Esther Robinson. Gentlemen's first to Louis Leurig, second to Roy Lomb and third to Bryan Coons. During the evening excellent refreshments were dispensed.

COMEDIAN DEAD.

The press despatches from Chicago Thursday mentioned the passing of John Dillon. Probably nine out of ten persons who read the name inquired "Who was John Dillon?" But the play goer of forty and more years ago had no need of such interrogatory. The name conjured up a host of memories of the players and plays of those palmy days of the drama. John Dillon was one of if not the greatest "low comedians" of his day. He was Chicago's favorite and all through the central west his name was a household word. It needed but the bare announcement that John Dillon was coming to fill the house. He played here many a time and always with great distinction. The last time was about ten years ago in a minor role in the play "The Dairy Farm." He retired from the stage soon after that. He was seventy-one years old.

GAVE WHOLE ESTATE

TO CHARITY
The will of Lucius Clark Francis of Sangamon county recently filed shows that he has given practically all of his $50,000 estate to charity. After making the bequests, it is provided in the will that in case the estate lacked funds to meet all the bequests, pro rata amounts should be deducted from each, but in each case there existed a surplus the amounts shall be increased pro rata. It is understood that there will be a considerable surplus and each bequest of $2,000 may be increased to $5,000.

The following are the bequests made:

Springfield Home for the Friendless, $2,000.
Springfield Redemption Home, $2,000.
Springfield Y. M. C. A., $2,000.
Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, $2,000.
Presbyterian board of Home Missions, $2,000.
American Board of Foreign Missions, (Congregational), $2,000.
American Board of Home Missions, (Congregational), $2,000.
Vorhees Industrial school of Denmark, South Carolina, $2,000.
Chicago Tract Society of Chicago, Ill., $2,000.

"Y" BOYS WILL CAMP IN JUNE.

The boys of the Y. M. C. A. who enjoyed camp life at Lake Mantanzas last year held a meeting at the "Y" last night, when plans were talked over relative to the trip to the lake this season. It was agreed that the boys under the supervision of H. A. Brewer, physical director, would be in camp from June 3 to 13 and that the Elsinor camp would be rented. Henry Davis will go along as cook and the chairman of the provision committee is L. S. Recker. This time of the year is thought to be preferable on account of the absence of mosquitoes and malaria.

IN STATE SPELLING CONTEST.

Helen Alma Gary, the 14-year-old pupil of the Old Orchard school of Webster Groves, Mo., will represent St. Louis county in the state spelling contest in Jefferson City, May 12. Miss Gary is a daughter of Rev. O. J. Gary, formerly a resident of this city, and for taking first place in the Webster Groves she gets a $10 cash prize free fare to Jefferson City and an opportunity to win the $100 prize offered there. In the St. Louis county contest Miss Gary failed in fourteen words out of 200.

MATRIMONIAL

Buchanan.

Joseph Buchanan, many years a farmer of Litchberry neighborhood died Thursday evening at 5:45 o'clock at his home east of Litchberry. Mr. Buchanan, had been failing health for about four years and had been confined to his bed for the past six weeks.

Joseph Buchanan was born in Kentucky October 31, 1835 and when a small boy came to this county with his parents. Aside from four years service in the Civil War, Mr. Buchanan spent practically his entire life in the Litchberry neighborhood where he successfully followed the occupation of farming, retiring a few years ago. At the outbreak of the war of the rebellion Mr. Buchanan enlisted in Co. E 101st, Ill. Vol. Inf., and served through the full four years of that conflict. He was under Capt. Samples, who commanded the company when it was mustered in, and later under Capt. Lamb of Chapin.

The deceased saw service in the battles of Mission Ridge, Lookout Mountain, Peach Tree Creek, Atlanta, and marched with Sherman to the sea, and then went on to Richmond, where he was mustered out after the close of the war. He was in actual service the entire four years, with the exception of a brief time when he was ill with the measles at Holly Springs, where the regiment was paroled.

Mr. Buchanan never married and is survived by one sister, Mrs. Mary E. Vaughn of Springfield. He was a member of the Litchberry Christian church and a man held in high esteem by a wide circle of friends.

Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.
Farnam-Gibson.
Leroy Farnam and Miss Mattie Gibson, both of Pawnee, were married in the parlors of the New Nicollet hotel at Girard Wednesday by Rev. C. C. Gibson of the Church of the Brethren. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Gibson of Pawnee and the groom, who is employed at the elevator at Pawnee, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Farnam of Niantic. Both are known in this city. Mr. Gibson, who performed the ceremony, is a grandfather of the bride, and is 91 years of age. He enjoys the distinction of having married all of his children and with a few exceptions, all of his grandchildren.

Hagan-Hayes.

The marriage of John Jesse Hagan and Miss Stella May Hayes, both of Murrayville, took place Thursday morning at 9 o'clock at the St. Bartholomew church in Murrayville. Rev. Father McCauley officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Sarah Ellen Hayes and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hagan. The groom is employed in the blacksmith shop of Henry Worrall in Murrayville.

JACKSONVILLE GETS RETAILERS MEETING

NEXT ANNUAL SESSION WILL BE HELD IN THIS CITY.

Annual Convention At Alton Closes After Election of Officers and Selection of Meeting Place—H. H. Bancroft Gives Address.

With the selection of Jacksonville as the meeting place for 1914 and the election of officers, the Illinois Retail Merchants' Association closed a three day session at Alton Thursday noon.

The contest between Springfield, Ottawa and Jacksonville for the next annual convention was quite spirited and it was only after persistent and concerted efforts that the local men secured the meeting. Paul R. Fritchey, secretary of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce, and T. M. Tomlinson, chairman of the retail merchants department of the local association, attended all of the sessions of the convention. C. S. Hillierby, W. J. Brady, F. J. Waddell, J. Herman, and C. L. Degen were among the local men who attended and Commissioner C. R. Knollenberg and H. H. Bancroft attended the Thursday session.

Secretary Fritchey read telegrams from Mayor Davis and President F. J. Andrews, asking for the convention and Mr. Bancroft gave an address to the convention in behalf of the local association. The meeting will be held in this city either the latter part of next April or sometime in June of next year. At the convention just closed there was some talk of changing the date of the annual meetings, and this matter was left to the executive committee.

The convention will bring between 250 and 500 people to Jacksonville. The annual meeting was held in this city seventeen years ago and the late T. H. Curtis of this city was at one time president. The association has had a very prosperous growth and its sessions are not only interesting but most profitable to retail merchants. Mr. Scherer of Peoria, one of the early presidents of the association who is credited with being the author of the pure food law, is still a member.

GOOD ROADS AND ALASKAN DEVELOPMENT

Birmingham, Ala., April 24.—Birmingham is host to 2000 delegates, who have assembled here from almost every state for the annual national good roads congress. Mrs. Suzzanna Rognon, a delegate from Alaska, told the congress this morning of the advance of the good roads movement in the northern territory under the direction of Major Richardson, the army engineer in charge of this development. Mrs. Rognon declared that the winning of Alaska from the wilderness is in large measure due to the good roads that are stretching in every direction from the principal cities and towns.

BANQUET AMERICAN BISHOP

Pilgrims To Rome Hope to Get a Sight off Pope Sunday. Rome, Italy, April 24.—Manager Kennedy, rector of the American College, gave a dinner tonight in honor of the Rt. Rev. Joseph Schrembs, bishop of Toledo, who is in charge of an American pilgrimage to Rome. Bishop Schrembs has made every effort to obtain a papal audience for the Americans, but in vain, as the physicians attending the pope refuse to relax in any way the restrictions imposed upon the pontiff. The American pilgrims will be received on Sunday by Cardinal Merry Del Val and Bishop Schrembs still hopes that they may have a glimpse of the pope, who may be permitted to show himself from a window.

HAS CONTRACT AT PONTIAC. John Cherry has a contract for the construction of a sewer at Pontiac which will cost that city about $36,000. For two blocks of the distance traversed the excavation must be through rock nineteen feet thick. The work will have to be done with the aid of dynamite.
